Bescom assures KERC it will install ToD meters by month-end

Special Correspondent

- Under ToD system, big HT consumers will have to pay more for power consumed during peak hours
- KERC had expressed dissatisfaction over the progress of installation of ToD meters by Bescom

BANGALORE: The Bescom, which had attracted the State power regulator's wrath for seeking an additional six months' time for complying with its directive to implement the mandatory Time of the Day (ToD) tariff system for large high-tension consumers after missing the September 1 deadline, on Thursday gave a commitment to the regulator of completing the process of installing ToD meters by September 30 itself so that new system could be implemented from October 1. It stated that it had already installed ToD meters for nearly 50 per cent of the big HT consumers.

Following this, the State power regulator, Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission, which had earlier issued a show-cause notice to Bescom Managing Director P. Manivannan for not complying with it's order on ToD system — deferred the decision on further action regarding the notice to September 18. Under the ToD system, big HT consumers will have to pay more for power consumed during peak hours and less during non-peak hours..

Appearing before the Commission, Mr. Manivannan, through Bescom counsel, made it clear that the delay was mainly due to several technical issues that were specific to Bangalore and Bescom. The other four Escoms had upgraded the HT consumers' existing meters without calling for tenders as they had only a small number of such installations. But the Bescom had to go for tenders as it had a huge number of HT installations and the cost of upgrading would touch around Rs. 55 lakh.

As the tendering process for such high volume of purchases would require a minimum of three months, the Bescom decided to avoid this and instead source the high-precision meters from the government-held Mysore Electrical Industries (MEI). But this too involved legal processes as an expert committee had to approve the prices in the absence of tendering, counsel said.

The Bescom has now decided to procure normal ToD compliant meters from MEI for the time-being to ensure that the commencement of the mandatory ToD tariff system was not affected. Later, these meters would be upgraded as per the R-APDRP requirements, counsel said.
